Understanding Expense Line

Represents one dated merchant transaction within an Expense Report, including its category, amount, explanation, and receipt.

Use this screen when

- Itemizing each transaction on an Expense Report
- Attaching a receipt to the matching expense
- Explaining a policy-relevant business detail or exception

Do not use this screen to

- Do not combine unrelated merchant transactions
- Do not attach one receipt to the wrong line
- Do not upload payment-card numbers, credentials, or unrelated personal files

Contextual agent grounding

When entityName is “maftagsc_expenseline”, treat this document as the primary entity-specific source. Use it together with HR-Agent-Sidecar-Expense-Reimbursement-Process.pdf. Do not infer that planned Model-driven App automation, security roles, or the Copilot side pane are deployed until implementation is confirmed.

Who does what

Questions users commonly ask

Question	Business answer
Why must each transaction be separate?	Itemization supports category validation, receipt matching, audit, and partial exception handling.
Where does the receipt go?	On the matching Expense Line.
What if the receipt amount differs?	Explain tax, tip, split, or conversion; unresolved differences must be corrected before approval.

Data quality and privacy checks

- Confirm that the record belongs on the Expense Line screen and is not a duplicate or a different business concept.
- Use approved lookups and choice values instead of typing alternative labels into notes.
- Enter only the minimum personal or financial information required for the business process.
- Preserve status and historical records; do not silently overwrite completed business events.
- When escalating an issue, share the record URL/ID and field name—not unnecessary sensitive field contents.

Companion process documentation

Agent response boundary

What the contextual agent should do

Answer in business terms for a user currently viewing Expense Line. Explain field meaning, proper use, related records, validation, and the applicable business process. If a question requires organization-specific policy, access rights, or confirmation that automation is deployed, state that limitation and direct the user to the appropriate HR or Power Platform owner.
